ASEF seeks to strengthen cultural connections

ASEF Creative Networks encourages collaborations among networks in order to reinforce the dialogue between cultural professionals from Asia and Europe. Its first open call for proposals is now open. Through this program, the Asia-Europe Foundation (ASEF) seeks to strengthen its role as a connector between cultural networks of the two regions since the past 15 years. The program draws from the positive experiences gained through the successful work of the Creative Encounters: Cultural Partnerships between Asia and Europe and will be based on a similar selection and funding model. Eligible candidates for this program include representatives of existing and/or emerging cultural/artistic networks, at national, regional, sub-regional or bi-regional levels.
