

Developing a Better Policy Context for Social Enterprises in Asia and Europe

Social Enterprise Site Visits

Monday 15 July, 2013 | Berlin, Germany

Schedule

- 1500 Meet in Hotel Indigo Restaurant
Welcome: John Whitehead (British Council) and Karsten Warnecke (ASEF)
- 1515 Introductions: Tristan Ace (British Council) and Sumiko Hatakeyama (ASEF)
- 1530 Bus to Social Impact Lab Erkelenzdamm 59-61, Portal 1, 3rd floor, 10999
- 1600 Introduction to Social Impact Lab by Benat Egana and Maria Gross
- Presentations of Social Entreprises:
- Ruby Cup with Founder Maxie Matthiessen
 - Fairnopoly with Founder Felix Weth
- Q & A Discussion
- 1745 Bus to Mercator Project Centre

Social Impact Lab

The Social Impact Lab in Berlin is a platform for social entrepreneurs, freelancers and companies focused on Social Entrepreneurship. It offers a physical space for office-working, networking and exchange. It also offers consulting and training, shared services and events. (<http://socialimpactlab.eu/lab>)

Ruby Cup

Ruby Cup responds to the need for menstrual protection alternatives with no negative environmental effects that are both available and affordable for girls in developing countries. Founded by three Danish social entrepreneurs in 2011, Ruby Cup is an eco-friendly solution to the problem and also a conversation starter to further education about reproductive health (<http://www.ruby-cup.com/de>).

Fairnopoly

Fairnopoly is an online market-place with three distinctive features – a fair business model, the promotion of more responsible consumption behaviours and a contribution to the reduction of corruption (www.fairnopoly.de).

British Council contacts:
Julia Rawlins +49 172 217 2479
Marijke Brouwer +49 173 74 22 308